EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

Until the Skin was raw. Body covered with scales like spots of mortar.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cutiours Remedies performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain aid I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuticura Remedies, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuti ours Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicin ity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

THE CHICAGO NOMINATIONS

Additional Reports Showing How They Are Received Throughout the Country

The Republicans of New York State, Including Those of Oneida County, Will Be United in Support of Harrison and Morton.

Further Enthusiastic Demonstrations in Honor of Harrison and Morton.

THE ONEIDA STALWARTS.

Conkling's Friends Gratified Over the Result -Feeling in Northern New York. Correspondence of the Irdianapolis Journal GOUVERNEUR, N. Y., June 28 .- "How do you like the nomination?" yesterday was asked the old Conkling leaders in Utica to the number of twenty. "It is a good one," was the invariable reply. "Oneida county will take her place again in the Republican columns." This was said in earnest by those men in Roscoe Conkling's home who, in the days of his mighty power were his trusted friends, and who stood true as steel in the hour of his defeat. They are of the men who make things go in this life; men who in all ages, times and places, furnish the heroes of the world. There was no place in New York where Conkling won such victories as he did in Oneida county. From the time he entered political life he had a great opposition at home, one that ordinary politicians with ordinary lieutenants would have succumbed to. He always won, and by the grave in which his giant form has so recently been put to rest his faithful band, with his memory cherished by their never-dying affection. say that Harrison must be the next President of the United States. To every Republican in this broad land, who loves his party, the sight must be gladdening. To the Republicans of the Empire State it is the best of news, for it means that the Old Guard that so many times put to rout the Democratic hosts are again marshaling for the fight as of old, and that always means victory. The quiet expression of satisfaction that appears on the faces of the Oneida stalwarts is the best proof that the Chicago convention did a wise thing for New York when it nominated Harrison and Morton. They are not load or boisterous in their talk and make no noise about their position, but they are honest men, true as steel, whose word in New York is never questioned, and when they say the old banner will be carried to the front by them in the coming cam-paign it means it will. To-day there is no division in the ranks of the party in this State. All are determined to win, and with the issue and men that we have there can be but little doubt but New York's thirty-six electoral votes will be cast for those men who stand for the American as against the European home. I asked several prominent Democrats in Utica what the Republicans of that city would do this year, and they sadly admitted that the old factional lines in the Republican party there are gone. They have reason to be sad at the fact. New York has given an average Democratic majority for three years, of nine thousand, obtained against a divided Republican opposition and friends in Indiana could have seen what I saw yesterday in the faces of the Utica Republicans they would hurrah louder than ever, for what I saw means trouble for the Democracy, a President for the Hoosiers, and our country safe from English free trade. Gouveneur is situated in the great banner Republican county of the State, St. Lawrence. Here men have been voting the Republican ticket since they were born. To say that they are happy is not half strong enough; they are in ecstacy. "Clean 'em out? Well, won't we," is heard all around. There are men here in plenty who took part in the hard-cider cam paign, and they seem to be living it over again.

The younger Republicans, men who stood in the mouth of hell to save the flag which we wear as our emblem, are as enthusiastic as men could be, and the still younger ones are whooping it up to the tune of "Tippecanoe and Morton, Too." All feel sure of the election of their ticket. It is safe to say that St. Lawrence county will give Harrison and Morton as great a majority as it did Grant in 1868, and that was phenomenal. The county is seventy-five miles long on the St. Lawrence river, and the Mills bill puts so many things on the free list that will come in direct and immediate competition with the products of St. Lawrence farmers, that they are aroused, and here the red bandanna will be badly trailed in the dust. The flag that stands for Canadian against Yankee products will be lonesome along the border. Grand is the outlook from Maine to the Golden Gate. There onslaught in the two great doubtful States cheered on by the battle-cry of comrades in the strong parts of the line, we will win. It will be a hard battle; there can be no halting in the charge, and there will not be. New York and Indiana will be carried for American homes, wages, ideas, and the old flag, by a party made enthusiastic and united by the action of the Chicago convention.

LEVI P. MORTON.

His Attitude on the Tariff-An Unassatiable Public and Private Record.

special to the Indianapolis Journa.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 30 .- In December, 1886 there was considerable inquiry as to the opinion of Levi P. Morton upon the question of the tariff. There were many, even in the Republican party, who thought at the time that he was in clined to a change in the tariff laws, although it could not be shown, nor had anybody heard anything from him or the question. Therefore the Albany Evening Journal sent a cable dispatch to Mr. Morton asking the question directly whether he was in favor of protection or not. The reply came back very promptly, as follows: Parts, Dec. 12 .- In answer to your inquiry, I say without qualification, in regard to my views on the question of protection, that I stand fully committed to the policy and platform of the Republican party. I earnestly believe in the protection of American industries and of the interests of the working masses of the United States.

LEVI P. MORTON. Mr. Morton was one of the comparatively few Americans who dweit abroad and who came home with the same simple ideas and approachable mappers that he had when he went away. Any one who knows Mr. Morton at all knows that he is one of the most companionable of men. In speaking with him not long ago in regard to his experiences in France and his opinions relating to its form of government, Mr. Morton said that the thing in France which created the greatest impression on his mind is the growth of republicanism as a rooted sentiment among the people. He had no doubt that France is a republic for all time. The feeling that a republican form of government is the only one that will give France strength and presperity runs deep through all French society. The people remember the loss of Alsace and Lorraine under the empire, and with the republic maintaining its prestige have lingering hopes that Germany may some day break up, when France can regain her own. A friend who is very intimate with Mr. Morton is enthusiastic over his nomination for the vice-presidency. This friend has known Mr. Morton all his life, and says that he has made his mark high on the lists of successful business men; he has the entire confidence of those who control the ficancial interests of the commercial metropolis of this country; he has achieved success through his patient, persevering industry and ability; though occupying a high social position, few men are more accessible to all classes than Levi P. Morton. Mr. Morton sprang from the people; he did not secure wealth by connection with monopolies, nor by schemes which drained the public treasury. As a Republican he is without reproach: as a representative in ings, business houses and many residences. Congress he was faithful to the interests of the were finely decorated with the national colors.

of importations from this country. It is not too much to say that Mr. Morton's private and pub-lic life defies adverse criticism. In times past he has been what his kind-hearted and generous sympathies will let him be no less in the future the equal friend of all factions of the Republican party. In the last quarter of a century few, if any, have exercised a greater influence, either as Governor of this great State, or as its representations. sentative in the United States Senate, than Edwin D. Morgan. Those who have known well both E. D. Morgan and L. P. Morton will not hesitate to say that in character, judgment, business sagacity and political tendencies they were not unlike. Under the same circumstances which developed the great abilities of New York's war Governor, Levi P. Morton would doubtless develop the equal ability and influence in the councils of the Republican party, and without prejudice to any, but with charity and good will to all. FREDERIC G. MATHER.

BLAINE TO SPEAK IN CHICAGO.

The Republicans Will Give the Plumed Knight a Great Reception in August. Chicago Special.

Mr. Blaine is booked for a speech in Chicago the second week in August, and the Blaine Club of this city, is making extensive preparations to receive him here. The club will hold a ratification meeting on the lake front next week, but this will be nothing as compared to the reception given Mr. Blaine. An inquiry has been received from New York from the Blaine Club there as to whether the club could arrange for a demonstration in Chicago at the time mentioned, to which an answer was returned that the Maine statesman would be given a royal welcome by his admirers here. Mr. Blaine will stop at Indianapolis on his way to Chicago for the purpose of conferring with General Harrison, and a committee will go from here to the Hoosier capital to properly receive

In fact, the entire club may go to Indianapolis to greet the Maine man and accompany him to this city, and the enthusiasm promises to be something surprising. An effort will be made to secure the attendance of General Harrison at the same time, and should this be successful the greatest political demonstration ever seen outside of New York is promised. Excursion trains are to be run for the benefit of the surrounding States, and the din is expected to exceed that of the convention period.

AT ERIE, PA.

Democrat Declares for Harrison.

Meeting in Honor of Mr. Estee-Prominent ERIE, Pa., June 30.-Thousands of people struggled to get into the Opera-house to-night, to attend the grand ratification meeting held by the Republicans in honor of Chairman Estee, an old Erie boy. J. F. Downing presided at the meeting, and 100 of the leading men of the city were vice-presidents. Among them were thirty-seven men who had voted for Harrison in 1840, and have already organized a veteran Tippecanos Club. Speeches were made by Morris M. Estee, chairman of the California delegation, S. A. Davenport, Erie's delegate, and ex-Congressman Brainard Orange Noble, the first vice-president of the meeting, is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat who was a candidate for State Treasurer in 1878, has been for twenty years president of the Keystone National Bank, is the head of Noble & Hall, the Key-stone works, is a prominent oil merchant, and one of the most influential Democrats in this section. "I voted for Harrison in '40," he said, "and I shall vote for him in November, if I am the only man in Pennsylvania who does." His support has infused new life into the Republican party throughout the

RATIFYING THE NOMINATIONS.

Great Meeting at New Albany, in Which the Gresham Men Participate.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW ALBANY, June 30.-This staid old city has undergone a change of heart and is to-night in a blaze of enthusiasm. Brass bands and martial bands filled the air with music, the heavens were ablaze with fire-works, bonfires illuminated the city, cannon belched forth its loud peals, and above all the din could be heard the abouts of the people for Harrison and Morton. On one of the principal street-corners a dozen or more people, composing a lusty male choir, sang with splendid effect a parody on the old 1840 campaign song, "For Tippecanooe and Morton, too, and with them, we'll beat Grover C." The occasion was the ratification of the nomination of Harrison and Morton, and the scenes of the night reminded one of the good old days of 1840. The log cabin, with the 'coonskins nailed to its sides, the live 'coon on the roof, the barrel of bard cider by the door, and the latch-string always hanging out, were missing: the long cance and the buckeye branches were not present, but all these will come later, with all the other paraphernalia of en-thusiastic Republicans bent on reviving the scenes of the most memorable political campaign this country has ever passed through, and which resulted in the elevation of Gen. William Henry Harrison, the hero of Tippecanos, Fort Meigs and the Thames, to the presidency. The demonstration to-night, in many of its features, particularly in the enthusiasm of the immense crowd assembled, was a revival of the days of 1840. Many were present who participated in that memorable campaign, nearly all old men now, but every one of them young in spirit and inspired with the is complete Republican unity. New York grasps same zeal that fired them forty-Indiana's band. With their two sons to lead the eight years ago. It was, all in all, one of the grandest political demonstrations that has occurred in New Albany in many years. All the Republicans were in attendance-the original Harrison men, the Gresham men, the Sherman men, the Blaine men-all of them now as enthusiastic for Gen. Ben Harrison as formerly they were for their favorite candidates. The speakers were all local to the city, but not a whit less interesting and entertaining on that account. Among them were Hon. Jesse J. Brown, Col. D. C. Anthony, Gen. Jasper Packard, Capt. M. M. Hurley and George B. Cardwill. The speeches were They were brief but to the point. American in spirit and sentiment, for protection to American industries, American labor, and American homes, as against British interests, British free trade, and European pauper labor. The sentiments of the speakers were applauded by the people with intense earnestness, and there could be no mistaking the meaning of this grand demonstration. Many conservative Democrats were present, several that will vote the Harrison and Morton ticket, among them some who have stood high in the councils of that party. There are no laggards in the Republican camp in this part of the State, and will be At Delpht.

Special to the Indianapolis Journel. DELPHI, Ind., June 30 .- This city swarmed with Republicans to-day, the occasion being the Republican county convention and the ratification of the Chicago nominations. The following county ticket was nominated: Treasurer, William R. Stewart; Representative, Hon. Chas. Harley; sheriff, Nelson Vangundy; surveyor, Thos. Chissom; coroner, G. M. Doane; commissioners, George W. Shanklin and John Coble. The ticket is a splendid one, and, with two exceptions, was but through by acclamation. The afternoon was devoted to Harrison and Morton. The fatification was hearty one, and indicated that the men who have been placed at the head of the national ticket are near to the hearts of the people of Carroll county. Three brass bands and several martial bands were on hand, and the city was decorated elaborately. The chief address of the day was delivered by Hon. Jno. L. Griffiths, of Indianapolis, who entertained the large audience for over an hour. He was followed by Patrick O'Donnell, an eleguent Irishman of this county, who led the Irish revolt from the Democracy four years ago. He pledged the same support from the Irish for Harrison and Morton that they gave the Plumed Knight. Resolutions were passed indorsing the platform and declaring in favor of Albert G. Porter for Governor.

At Marion. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Marion, Ind., June 30. - Grant county Repub licans ratified the action of the Chicago convention this afternoon and this even ing after the most enthusiastic fashion. For the benefit of the country folks a demonstration was held this afternoon, which was marked by an immense attendance and great enthusiasm. The day was ushered in by a salute of cannon, which continued an hour. The crowd came pouring in early, and by noon some of the streets were almost impassable. The public buildave no evidences of mental trouble.

Country, while serving with fidelity those of the Republican party. As minister to France house was packed with a thousand people from his popularity and influence secured all parts of the county. Chairman Osborn preimportant commercial concessions in favor sided and introduced Hon. Warren G.

Sayre, of Wabash, who spoke for three hours, commending the wisdom of the Chicago convention, paying a high tribute to Harrison and Morton, and predict-ing a glorious victory in November. Hon. John M. Butler, of Indianapolis, arrived at 2 o'clock, and soon afterwards was introduced to the audience. Always a foreible and logical speaker, Mr. Butler made one of the best efforts of his life, fairly flaying the Democratic party for its free-trade herestes, its reform mockeries and pretenses, and its treasonable past. The audience was immensepleased and scarcely a man the hall while the address was in progress. Judge Gresham had many friends and admirars here who desired his nomination, but all Republicans in Grant county are Harrison men now, and next November this county will give the biggest Republican majority in its history.

At Liberty.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LIBERTY, Ind., June 30 .- The Republicans of Union county met at the court-house this afternoon to select delegates to the State and congressional conventions. The delegation to the State convention is headed by T. C. Burnside, chairman of county committees, and Hon. R M. Haworth. The following resolutions were adopted after enthusiastic speeches by Hons. Thos. D. Evans, J. W. Connaway, C. W. Stivers and J. S. Lambert. The meeting was in the nature of a love-feast, and was one of the best held here for years. These are the resolutions: Resolved, That the Republicans of Union county hail with delight, and indorse with all our hearts, the nomination of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Gen. Benjamin Harrison as the Republican standard-bearer for President, and pledge to Harrison and Morton our for President, and pledge to Harrison and Morton our enthusiastic, loyal support.

Resolved, That the platform of the national Republican party, adopted at Chicago, declares the whole truth, and is a declaration of principles that meets our cordial indorsement and approval.

Resolved, That the Republicans of Union county are in favor of applying the principles of "local option" as a solution of the liquor traffic question, and instruct our delegates to the State convention to use their influence to secure a local ention plant in the their influence to secure a local-option plank in the

There was a very decided expression in favor of Albert G. Porter for Governor and Col. R. S. Robertson for Lieutenant-governor. It is believed by leading Republicans here that Col. Robertson should be unanimously tendered the nomination for Lieutenant-governor, and there are some who favor his nomination for Governor. The logic of the contest in the last Legislature demands that Col. Robertson should take the first or second place on the State ticket. As he is a loyal Republican he will obey the command of his party.

At Muncie.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal MUNCIE, June 30 .- One of the grandest oldtime Republican ratification meetings that has been held in this city for a number of years was participated in to-night. Every effort possible, previous to the meeting had been put forth by the central committee and the Young Mens' Republican Club to make the ratification meeting a grand success, and the result was a hilarious time. A procession of Republicans, under the direction of the Young Men's Republican Club, formed and with torches, banners and flags, marched through the principal streets. General Harrison's picture beautifully framed and mounted upon a ten-foot staff was carried at the head of the procession. The streets were one solid mass of people, and throughout the entire line of march the ciub was greeted with cheers and yells. Everybody who could procure a noisy instrument was using it to an advantage that was seldom ever before witnessed in this city. Speeches were delivered by the Hon. R. S Gregory and others, under a natural-gas arch of thirty-two jets. It was a grand Republican meeting and closed with three rousing cheers for Harrison and Morton.

At Lafayette.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 30. - The Republicans of Lafavette and Tippicanoe county to-night turned out to ratify the nomination of Indiana's favorite son. All evening the streets have been thronged with enthusiastic, shouting Republicans, who are fairly bubbling over with joy at Harrison's nomination. Bands are playing, political clubs are marching, tin horns are blowing and everybody is hurrahing. The exercises were held at the Opera-house, where the eloquent Griffiths, of Indianapolie, poured shot and shell into the Democratic camp, exciting his audience to the highest pitch of enthusi-asm. There were no Gresham men tonight-all were for Harrison and Morton. Several of the Judge's most ardent supporters were on the stage, and some of them made speeches. On the Opera-house platform were many of the boys of 1840, who voted for Harrison and Tyler, too, and though time had silvered their locks, they were just as jubilant and enthusiastic as the boys who will vote for the General's grandson in 1888. It was a grand ratification, all old differences being buried for

At Winchester. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WINCHESTER, Ind., June 30 .- The streets of this city, to-night, are literally packed with dense crowd of Republicans, whose enthusiasm and delight over the Chicago nomi nations knows no bounds. Brass and military bands from the surrounding towns were present, rendering patriotic and national airs, while countless horns added to the din. Immense boufires were lighted at various points, and bands of girls, arrayed in red, white and blue, bespangled with stars, paraded the streets. Hon. A. O. Mesh, General Stone, James E. Watson and others delivered speeches.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., June 30 .- This has been a big day for the Republicans in this city. Tonight the ratification took place, which was the largest of the kind ever held in Columbus. Promptly at 8 o'clock the procession, which was formed on Sixth street, moved down Washington street to the curt-house, headed by bands of music. The display of fire-works was aplendid. The decrations on the business houses and at the court-house were very fine. Speedass were made by several of ou leading citizens. Republicans all solid for Harrison and Morton, and some Democrats also.

At Amboy, Ind. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

AMBOY, Ind., June 30 .- The Republicans of this village ratified the nomination of Harrison and Morton last evening, and later the Hon. E B. Reynolds addressed the citizens on the subject of constitutional prohibition and local option as a means to an end, as the best methods of dealing with the liquor traffic. The large hall was well filled and the audience was very enthusiastic, but the speaker was interrupted by a few third-party men, who acted the part of street brawlers and conducted themselves in an ungentlemanly and contemptible manner.

At Washington.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Ind., June 30 .- The city to night is ablaze with bonfires and wild with the music of brass bands. The Republicans are ratifying the nomination of Harrison and Morton. A mammoth meeting in the open air was addressed by Hon. Frank B. Poser, of Petersburg: Representative Joseph Stubblefield, of Pike county, and Judge W. R. Gardener, Jno. C. Bilbeimer, Col. N. H. Jepson, of this city, and Wm. Heffernan, president of the Indiana Catholic Total Abstenance Society.

At Paris, Ill.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Paris, Ill., June 30. - The nomination of Har rison and Morton was ratified by the Republic ans of Paris, this evening, with a degree of enthusiasm which characterized the memorable campaigns of Lincoln and Grant. A notable feature of the oceasion was a grand display of fire-works, a parade of the local band, drum corps and flambeau club, with a torch-light procession, followed by a public speaking in the court-house park, which was addressed by Colonel Nelson, of Terre Haute, and local speakers.

At Anderson. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ANDERSON, IND., June 30 .- The Republicans are holding a big ratification meeting in this city to-night, and ten thousand people are on the streets, filling the air with cheers for Harrison and Morton. There was a torch-light parade, fireworks, bands of music, and speeches. A feature of the parade was a wagon containing thirteen voters who cast their ballots for William Henry Harrison for President in 1840, and will support Gen. Benj. Harrison in 1888.

At Columbia City.

Special to the Indiagapolis Journal. COLUMBIA CITY, Ind., June 30 .- The Republicans of Whitley held a rousing ratification meeting here last night. Speeches were made by Col. R. S. Robertson, Judge Walter Olds, Hon. Michael Sicafeose and other prominent Republicans, who were rapturously applauded. The name of General Harrison arouses intense enthusiasm among Republicans. This county is very uncertain and slippery ground for a Dem-ocratic majority this fall.

At Wabash.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., June 30.-The Republicans of the city and vicinity held a grand ratification meeting here to-night, and the streets have been a perfect bedlam all the evening, drowning the voices of the speakers who attempted to address the crowd on Wabash street. An adjournment was then made to the City Hall, which was filled to overflowing. Republicans here are very enthusiastic and confident of a sweeping Fifth Judicial District. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

Madison, Ind., June 30 .- The nominating convention for the Fifth judicial district-Switzerland and Jefferson counties-met here this afternoon. Jefferson had two candidates for prosecutor—Perry Bear and Samuel Wells. Wells withdrew, and Bear was nominated by acclamation. Switzerland refused to partiespate, her candidate being James Van Osdel, whom they thought entitled to the nomination.

At Hoopeston.

Special to the Indianapolic Journal. Hoopeston, Ill., June 30 .- A big Republican ratification meeting is in progress in this city this evening. Judge Waiter Q. Gresham is present, but declines to speak on the ground that a federal judge should not address a political gathering. It is the most enthusiastic meet ing ever known here. W. R. Jewell, of Dan-ville, addressed the people and called forth rounds of applause.

At Fowler.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FOWLER, Ind., June 30. - The Republicans of Benton county held a ratification meeting here last night, over the nomination of Hon. Bent. Harrison for President of the United States. CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Men Who Took Part in the Struggles of '36 and '40 Prepare for Work.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal Paris, Ill., June 30 .-- Pursuant to a call made in the daily papers for a meeting of all of the old Whigs residing in this county who assisted in the campaigns of 1836 and 1840, and supported William Henry Harrison, a meeting was held. yesterday afternoon at the John A. Logan Republican Club rooms, and a Tippecanoe club formed, with Mr. John C. Mesne chairman, and Messra T. C. W. Sale and W. S. Cook, secretaries. Fifty names were subscribed as mem-bers. Mr. John Welch brought in and exhibited to the meeting two fine, healthy coons, which be declared to be the diffect and legitimate descendents of "that same old coon" which figured so conspicuously in the campaign of 1840, and C. P. Hitch produced and placed at the service of those present a quantity of fine old ender, in memory of the campaign of 1840, and a harbinger of similar success in 1888. On motion a committee to draft a constitution and laws to govern the club was appointed, with in-structions to report at a meeting to be held at the Republican club rooms Saturday, July 7 1888. This is the first Tippecanoe club formed in the United States, and these old Whigs are to be congratulated upon the honor. They promise to make this campaign far excel in enpublican club here in carrying on the cam-

Indianapolis Special to Pittsboyg Dispate cle accusing General Harrison of having been leader in the effort to suppress by arms the railroad strikes in 1877, and with having then, in speech in the City Hall, given just cause of of fense to a committee of the strikers. The gist of the charge against General Harrison is that in the conference with the strikers he made use of some expression to the effect that "a dollar a day was fenough for workingmen," and that afterward he was eager to suppress the strike with arms, and declared that the strikers ought to be shot without mercy. General Harrison was asked by the Dispatch correspondent if he cared to make a statement as to the charge that he had made such remarks. "You can make a statement about such thing as that just as well as I can," be replied. "I have no time in this campaign to deny that I am an idiot, I cannot undertake to answer every absurd story that is set up against me. But as to this one I can say that I have never yet been accused of being an idiot." Later he remarked as to the same matter that he did not propose to spend his time this summer "in chase Harrison's Congressional Record. Minneapoli, Journal.

The more the record of General Harrison in the United States Senate is examined, the stronger will be his position before the people. His position on the question of the admission of Dakota won him the enthusiastic support of

As a member of the committee on foreign relations, he shared in framing the Chinese rereport of that measure. It was very carefully drawn to be just and within the provisions of

On the general question of immigration, Senator Harrison took strong grounds against the wholesale importation of contract labor, preserving carefully the privileges of honest workingmen who mean to become American citizens. General Harrison will appear, on the closest examination, a prudent, clear-sighted statesman, in full accord with the most advanced and intelligent American sentiment.

The Republican Campaign, New York Tribune.

The Republican party is perfectly able to justify its past policy, its present platform and its plans for the future. It has behind it a record of industrial progress such as no other nahas never achieved under any other policy. It can crush and bury all opposition if it takes care to bring the facts of recent history to bear upon the minds of voters. But it cannot convince those minds by shouting, by brass bands, or by torchlight processions. The voters need information, and the danger is that managers will offer them enthusiasm instead. There are needed this year millions of tracts, millions of effective speeches crowded with facts, millions of school-district meetings at which voters may be educated. The truth will win, if men take the trouble to present the truth. But the truth will not win if it gets expression only in the flare of torches and the blare of trumpets.

A Silly Charge, Washington Special.

It has been announced in the newspapers of all parties, and with apparent joy, that the campaign is to be a clean one, and that there are to be no personal assaults made upon the candle dates of either party. If current reports are true, however, there is good reason to believe that this good resolution will not be followed. There are intimations that an attack is to be made upon Mr. Morton by the Democrate, because his business firm, when he was minister to Paris, secured a contract of some sort with a South American government. The attempt will r probably be made to make it appear that this contract was obtained by reason of the official position which Mr. Morton held. On the other hand, the answer will doubtless be that Mr. Morton had no knowledge whatever that his firm had secured the contract and that his offcial connection could not possibly have any connection with the routine business of his banking
